LIFE AT SRCC

4:00 PM

Off as we go to the library and breeze through the ILS, it's an entirely new world. Incomplete assignments enter this lovely place but don't leave it. (Hint: They get completed)

2:30 PM

And the 600 page books strike again...but with a hint of fun. This time we get to interact with each other via presentations, group discussions and work on live projects. The cerebrum surely enjoys this part.

7:30 AM

The SRCC campus rings at the crack of dawn. With energized souls walking into the gymnasium, the machines switch on in tandem and the muscle hustle starts.

9:00 AM

Be it 7P's of Marketing, Capital budgeting, Transformational leadership or Strategic outsourcing, this four and a half hour stretch of caffeine works like magic.

1:30 PM

The travel map of our fun spree might be routine but the fun is inspired by zero budgeting, fresh each time. Starting from the canteen and going till the tea stall via our chic Nescafé point, it's quite a break.

8:00 PM

Our stint at Sudama's tea stall and Tom's Maggi never gets old. There is always a new discussion warming up.

5:00 PM

After flexing our brains in the classroom, we head to flex our muscles in our state-of-the-art sports arena, which includes a gymnasium, swimming pool, basketball court, and the most often visited medical area.

9:00 PM

And back we are to our lovely generous place, the library. It's for 1.5 decades that our elders have been telling us that self-study is the best study. That is true indeed!
